

LUXURY HOME OF THE WEEK:

Mattapoisett home of ex-Titleist CEO listed for $2.47 million

June 18, 2018 2:39 pm

Built in 1985, this waterfront Mattapoisett estate is dubbed “The Young House” and our selection for Luxury Home of the Week.

The property, 20 Ned’s Point Road, is on the market for $2,475,000 and sits on 1.7 acres overlooking the harbor and Buzzards Bay. Tall hedges along the street side of the property allow ample privacy for the 3,820-square-foot home, which has three bedrooms and 3.5 baths.

Features of the listing include an indoor heated pool, wood-burning fireplaces in the study and living room, and a sun porch.

The residence, which was built for Dick Young, former CEO of Acushnet Co. and Titleist Golf Co. and son of the inventor of the Titleist golf ball, has been updated in recent years, including the addition of central air, the installation of a gas-hydro heating system, fresh interior paint, and new flooring. ■